

- |                                |                                  |
|--------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 1. Crystal Cruises             | 6. Holland America Line          |
| 2. Radisson Seven Seas Cruises | 7. Princess Cruises              |
| 3. Oceania Cruises             | 8. Concord Line                  |
| 4. Disney Cruise Line          | 9. Royal Caribbean International |
| 5. Celebrity Cruises           | 10. Orient Lines                 |

— Travel + Leisure magazine's 2004 World's Best Awards

Hang your stockings with care

By Amanda Kingsbury

Fort Worth Star-Telegram

Everybody likes socks and underwear for the holidays, right? Not. But they might get excited about disposable underwear and secret-compartment socks. They're two of many hot holiday gifts for your globe-trotting friends and family — whether they're actual adventurers or just Walter Mitty-style wayfarers. Here, we wrap up 25 gifts that will send them on their merry way.

And as for those well-traveled folks who wronged you this year? Just give them a guilt trip.

$10-$25

■ Socks and underwear: For travelers who can't stand the thought of repacking dirty underwear for the trip home, OneDerWear (www.onederwear.com) sells disposable, biodegradable cotton briefs/boxers for men and briefs/thongs for women. $10 for a five-piece package. Zip It Gear makes it hard for thieves to make off with your cash — because first they'll have to

www.onederwear.com

OneDerWear's briefs can be worn away after one use.

Zip It Gear's socks thwart thieves with a zippered pocket that can hold credit cards and cash.

www.zipitgear.com

But throw away the

tration-approved device lets officials open your check-in bags using a special key. Best feature: A tiny window displays green when the lock hasn't been opened, and red when it has, so you know if somebody's been pawing through your stuff. $10-$25; 1-800-733-8588 or www.cclsecurity.com.

■ Baggage claim to fame: Artags prevent awkward baggage-carousel encounters — “Excuse me, sir, but I think that's luggage” — plus, they're cool. Cody-Chrome Designs just released a series of school images for the retrosexual in you featuring destinations from Tunis to T. There also are America-themed and vintage tags. $10; www.artag.com.

■ For Fido: Parched pooches and their gage-laden companions will like Expand Bowl, which squeezes into compact zip pouch, then pops out into a full-size bowl. The bowl comes in brown, navy and those more feminine four-legged types: fuchsia. $18; www.flight001.com.

■ Road woes: If you run out of gas, you use the Pack-A-Cone as a dunce cap. In other, nonself-inflicted roadside emergencies, you can use it as a safety device. The flashing, battery-operated collapsible cone, made of nylon and polyester, opens to 18 inches high and folds back down to 10. $24.85; www.magellans.com.

■ Jet-set skin: Take care of your skin in transit with Dr. Hauschka's Jet Set kit for holistic travelers. The kit includes facial toner, hand and eye cream, rosemary leg and arm toner and a leave-on mask that disappears into the skin. $21.50; www.flight001.com. For guys, there's the shaving basics kit from Anthony: Logistics for Men. The citrus-scented glycerin take off your socks. The ankle, sport and crew socks, designed by a guy who was pick-pocketed in Prague, have a zippered compartment large enough to hold credit cards, ID, money and a key. $14.99-$23.99; 1-888-494-7769 or www.zipitgear.com.