Hot Pockets

A new product called Zip It Sox has hit the market, designed for sports enthusiasts who need a place to keep essentials, such as car keys, cash and credit cards, secure while exercising.

The sports socks, produced by San Diego-based Zip It Gear, features the brand's signature zip-pocket built into one of the socks. The collection comprises heavyweight and lightweight styles made of Comfortrel XP, a high-performance fiber that breathes and wicks moisture away. Both versions are designed with non-ravel tops, form-fitting arches and zippers that lock in place to prevent bothersome movement during activities.

The socks are available in unisex sizes medium and large. Set for immediate delivery, the socks retail for $14.99.
